Apologies
Posted by PeterD - 08 Nov 2012 14:12

Hi,

I have been informed my pc sent out an email to all the members of this site. I had no knowledge of this and I apologize for any inconvience. I have good security on my computer and can't explain why this happened.

I did send an email to a Russian player about missing log on details on the Citedal website and that keeps bouncing back - but thats the only email issue I've ever had.

I have changed some details on my email and I hope it doesn't happen again.

Again I'm sorry for this.

Peter

==========

Re: Apologies
Posted by Batz - 09 Nov 2012 02:20

Peter, it wasn't on this site that the spams appeared it was in the Yahoogroup.

games.groups.yahoo.com/group/w3pbem/

Sometimes it isn't anything on your PC that causes these things to happen but it's always worth running a decent anti-virus scan on it.

Ian

==========