What exactly is unmaintained?

The newest version of the game (war4) is 13 years old now. So it's not like newbies are going to come here looking to try the game for the first time.

I try and visit every couple of days to see if there are any new posts / questions etc. Other old veterans come by on occasion to help as well.

The downloads section is as up to date as possible with everything I've collected over the years.

So what's the issue?
