www.reddit.com/r/warlords/

I have managed to claim the sub reddit r/warlords off of some dodgy mobile phone game that had it previously. It appeared they had gotten the sub banned under reddits T&C and so I was able to put in a request for it and snatch it up.

I have spruced it up a bit with a banner / logo and made an introductory sticky post.

Would more than welcome anyone that would be willing to come on as a moderator. Especially the regulars here like KGB. I have lurked on this forum for decades and know this is where the passion is.

Maybe we can get some community with the games being on GoG now. I would love to get some tournaments going at some point. Suggestions more than welcome.
