

Site feedback

Posted by Seppuccu - 20 Jan 2011 16:52

KGB, Woog,

I was thinking we perhaps could use a thread for feedback on the new site's growth. If you think this is a bad idea you can just lock the thread.

Currently I have only one major thing to point out: Don't list the mail address like you did, spam bots will get their hands on it. Make it info [AT] warlords [dot] com or something like that instead.

Dear d00ds, we seriously need some good news on the front page. The page is in dire need of an update.

Please, please, PLEASE update the front page on the main Warlords site. It's quite frankly depressing to see 16 months old bad news whenever you come to the site and it will do traffic more harm than good. It sure does harm to my traffic...

News about e.g. Infinite Interactive going independent again would be appropriate.
