

Username change

Posted by Vissavald - 07 Jan 2018 10:31

Is it possible?

Of course.

Not sure whether all your posts get automatically transferred to the new name or not. Would have to figure that out after changing the username.

Well, then wouldn't you be so kind to change my alias from Vissavald to Nyktouros.

Thanks in advance.

P.S. As soon as I'll get better from my long drawn illness, I'll try to scan W3DLR Prima Strategy guide as I promised 🙏

Someone already has that username. It was registered on 2016-10-12 with an email address of nyktouros@mail.ru

Was that you registering a second account with a different username?

Oh, it must be me really, I don't think anyone else use this alias over the Internet. I don't remember registering here under this nickname, sorry.

So can two accounts be merged, or "old" Nyktouros deleted and "new" Nyktouros renamed from Vissavald, or Vissavald be deleted, or something?

Sorry for bothering you for a such trifle issue...

Nyktouros,

As you can see I deleted the other account and changed yours.

All your other info (login, email etc) should remain the same unless you want to update those.

If you can't log in you can email me at the info link on the main page.

Oh, well... Wouldn't it sound like a complete idiocy to ask to revert things back as it was, i.e. back to Vissavald username? :/

I don't know what had made me to want to change it, now I feel completely 'not myself' under Nyktouros nick...

So if it won't bother much, I'd be very grateful. And this topic could be deleted then, maybe?

Vissavald,

Sorry didn't notice your request.

It's done now and you are back to being you 🍌

Pooh... Thanks a lotta lot, I didn't know that nicknames can affect people (well, namely me) in such a way. Now I really feel better even physically, when I changed my nicknames back on every place I haunt over the Net.
